About the State

One of the public requests in the will of Margaret W. Frothingham, which was allowed in the Middlesex, Mass., probate court Monday, was $1,000 to the Kurn Hattin Homes at Westminster.

Rev. Dr. G. G. Atkins, a former pastor of the First Congregational church in Burlington and recently of Detroit, Mich., was installed as pastor of the Central church of Providence, R. I., Monday.

Dr. Hall, Rutland's health officer, reports the following contagious diseases during the month of October: 7 cases of typhoid fever, 1 of chicken pox, 4 of mumps, 2 of whooping cough, 1 of scarlet fever and 2 of diphtheria. There were 16 deaths during the month.

A barn on the Albert Woodward farm in North Bennington was burned Sunday, the fire being set by children playing with matches. There was an insurance of $300 on the building, but Charles Rose, who rented the property, lost three tons of hay and a large quantity of wood.

Willard E. Edson, aged 75 years, died Saturday at his home in Rutland as the result of a sunstroke received three years ago, from which he had never recovered. For 15 years he had been possessed of a very slight mental derangement. He was going to Rutland eight years ago, where he was engaged in contracting and building. He is survived by a son and daughter, his wife dying in 1905.

Thomas Cronan, employed as a press-man on the Burlington Daily News, lost three fingers from his right hand Monday by having it caught in a gear of the press. Cronan lifted up the foot board so that he could put resin on the belt, which was slipping, when his hand came in contact with the gear.
He withdrew instantly but the first three fingers had been mangled down to the last joint.

Health Officer H. L. Stillson of Burlington warns parents for the present to be especially careful of their children and to see a physician at once for anyone complaining of any throat trouble.
Diphtheria in its worst form is spreading in that city, but it is thought that the development of any more cases can be prevented if parents and children cooperate with the health officer in using the necessary precautions.

Two foreigners, while in the store of T. C. Young and Son in Rutland Saturday night, picked up a new gun bought by Mr. Young that day and placing a cartridge in the barrel attempted to see how the weapon worked. The result was the breakage of the big plate glass window in the front of the store. Owing to the thickness of the glass, the bullet did not pass out but glanced back against the window sash and hit a marble shelf. Several people were in the store at the time, but during the excitement, the two foreigners escaped.

An interesting horse race, in which half a dozen animals of the famous Morgan breed will be pitted against twenty or thirty United States cavalry horses, is being arranged with the co-operation of the war department as a test of the Morgan in cavalry service. The test is part of a general policy of education as to the qualities of the type which was once threatened with extinction. At the suggestion of Gen. Leonard Wood, it is proposed to start from Fort Ethan Allen, near Burlington, and finish at Montpelier, state fair in September next.
